WEALTH vs NUMBERS

All the Loco foco papers are trumpeting the momentous fact that John Jacob Astor, his son William B Astor and John Griswold came forward and openly and avowedly voted the tory ticket in New York

We are confidently assured that these great men, whose names appear in large capitals, are the richest men in the city When the poor laborers and suffering mechanics of the country hear this astounding news, there will doubtless be a nother 'Democratic reaction' Our acknowledgments are due to the tory papers for thus substantiating the truth every where proclaimed by the Whigs, that it is the policy of the administration and the inevitable consequence of their measures to make the rich, richer, and the poor poorer

When credit shall have received its final death blow, the aristocracy of wealth will monopolize the whole trade and commerce of the country. As the rich have still a desire to become richer, it is rational enough that the great capitalists of the country, who are safely anchored from the storm, should view with complacency, the ship-wreck of every smaller craft, as only making sea room for themselves No wonder they vote the Tory ticket But as the poor have no particular inclination to become poorer, and as their number is daily increasing, it is not after all very surprising that the present Administration, with all the political power and all the overgrown purses on its side, should be, as in fact it is losing ground in every state in the Union

THE RECENT ELECTIONS

The following table, from the Atlas, shows a Whig majority of 23,612, at the last elections in nine of the Northern States, which gave at the next preceding elections a Tory majority of 3,023, making a Whig gain of 26,635 This glorious result has been effected, not by the indifference of the tories, for they brought out their whole strength at the last elections but by the free unbought suffrages of the Whigs, who, though but too apt to leave the field to the enemy when office is the only bone of contention, are ever ready at their posts when the necessity comes, as it now has, of arresting the schemes of a corrupt administration, and of compelling their servants to return to the ancient landmarks of the Constitution:

MR. CLAYTON'S BALLOON–ACCIDENT

Yesterday, at about half past two o clock, Mr. Clayton's balloon was undergoing the process of inflation, the gas from some unknown source, took fire, and exploded with a noise like the discharge of artillery Four persons engaged in the inflation were badly burned – one of them it is feared dangerously. The balloon was instantly burned, and the fire was communicated to the wooden portion of the apparatus containing the water and other ingredients from which the gas was manufactured We were present at the scene about an hour afterwards, when the fire was still issuing in flashes from all parts of the surface of the water with a sound like the faint rumbling of distant thunder.

Mr. Clayton's pecuniary loss is very serious, it can't be less than fifteen hundred dollars at the least Upon that matter, however, he hardly bestows a thought; his great concern is on account of the disappointment of the public. For his pecuniary loss he will be amply indemnified by a generous public

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1838.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

SIR: There is a slight confusion in the Van Buren camp Mr Bates of Ohio threatens to break from the leading strings of party, though but lately a leader himself One who, verily thought he was doing his country service by an open and active hostility against all Banks.

The Connecticut election, the return of a Whig from Cilley's District, with the terrifying progress of Whig principles in all quarters, is spreading dismay through the ranks of Loco focoism The destructive purposes of the party are smitten with infirmity The condition of the finances admonishes the administration, that it will soon have need of that credit it has so loudly decried The demands upon the Treasury for sixty days to come, can hardly be met, without authority from Congress to negotiate a loan, or to make a further issue of Treasury notes The Secretary finds he has need of convertible paper It is not quite so convenient for present purposes, to have specie in remote Land Offices, where it is not wanted, as it is to have even Mr Biddle's Bank notes, at points where the expenditure is required Not a Paymaster or disbursing officer, but groans with vexation Mr Woodbury is compelled to draw for large sums in specie, on the Land Offices Mr Biddle, or his agents, are the only purchasers, being the only parties able to advance the required sums, of consequence, the Bank of the United States of Pennsylvania, directly or indirectly, obtains the specie while the public creditor is glad to get Mr Biddle's paper from the government It is not easy to conceive of a more miserable driveller in finance than the present head of the Treasury Department

The Treasury is now meanly proffering to the Banks assistance, in the event of their resuming specie payments when in fact he stands in the utmost need of their assistance The time was, when such assistance would have been useful to the Banks, and to the People, when it would have prevented the mischief of suspension, but now the proffer is, to encumber the Banks with aid to help the government in an emergency Unless aid be tendered upon broad and liberal principles, it ought not to be accepted Among Banks, that are really solvent, any partial resumption will operate injuriously, because unequally, both upon the Banks and the community The government ought not to stimulate a partial resumption, which can only create confusion and mischief by the inequalities it will occasion If New York resume, and the great mass of the debts of the country, to that city, be required to be paid in the paper of their banks, equivalent to specie– it would operate so unjustly and oppressively, that the natural consequence would be, that while the New York Banks, nominally resumed specie payments, the debtors to the New York merchants would actually suspend making any payments at all The Directors of the Banks themselves, can better judge of the safety and propriety of resuming specie payments, and ought by no means to be drawn into any new undertakings depending on the good faith of the government, without some substantial assurance that its aspect will be entirely changed towards them The interests of the community demand such change Nevertheless both the Banks and the People, have reason to distrust all professions of benignity from a party in power, that has been constantly loading the Banks with the most odious and insulting epithets, coupled with the declaration, that all who borrow from them ought to break Nothing will so certainly bring upon the debtors to the Banks, this malediction, as a premature or partial resumption

There is nothing more delusively preposterous than the cry of ignorant demagogues, that specie payments alone, are required, to relieve the country from embarrassments These empirics mistake the end for the means The Government, instead of stimulating the Banks to distress their borrowers, in order to hasten the resumption of specie payments, ought rather to stimulate and encourage active and successful industry, and to set the example of indulgence and forbearance towards the Banks, in order that the like may be extended by them to their debtors The great wants of the people are, time, and a uniform currency, with these, they will soon bring their industry to such prosperous results as will enable them to pay their debts The resumption of specie payments follows, of course The bank that indulges its customers, and sustains them, in the active pursuit of a prosperous business, strengthens both itself and them, while the bank that urges payment under present disadvantages, weakens both itself and its borrowers, and for no cause but to gratify an idle and pernicious ambition, to be foremost in the resumption of specie payments The sufferings of the People, by the suspension, are nominal and imaginary, in comparison with those which will inevitably follow such a scarcity of the circulating medium, as must be occasioned by the resumption of specie payments, without a previous adoption of such measures, by the Government, as will furnish for the People, that adequate and uniform currency, which is necessary to give a just value to their products and property, and thus enable them to pay their debts

It will be seen by those who have read Mr Biddle's letter to Mr Adams, of the 5th inst, that this writer fully coincides with the views which that eminent financier has taken of the present relations of the banks with the Government, with each other, with their borrowers, and with the community at large Those who cavil at his course, may do so but they cannot answer his arguments

AN OBSERVER AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 13, 1838

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

The Senate's Committee, appointed at the request of Mr Buggins, have made a report, by which they can hardly scarcely be surprised from the charge of corruption, preferred against them by James of New Jersey It is not just to expect that all ambiguous gleanings out, in reference to these charges, may be cancelled, since the testimony has wholly failed to fix the slightest imputation upon the conduct or character of that Senator.

AN OBSERVER IN WASHINGTON.

SPECIE PAYMENTS.

The Philadelphia United States Gazette thus explains the facilities which the New York Legislature will afford the Banks in resuming specie payment, and what kind of specie payment is meditated

"The New York banks are certainly entitled to the credit of adroitness They have collected the bankers from other parts of the Union, urging upon them the necessity of an immediate resumption, by which alone, faith and honor, and character can be preserved In the midst of the discussion, they procure a law from Albany, which allows them to issue notes, not payable on demand like the notes of other banks, but payable in twelve months These twelve month notes being issued and circulated in New York, will of course become current notes, and as the depositors in the banks are obliged to take current notes, they must of course take these twelve months notes The whole of the deposits in the banks will thus be paid in notes, for which there can be no claim on them for a year, and as they issue no notes payable on demand, of course there can be no claim upon them for coin The law, it is understood, authorises them to issue these notes during two years, so that in fact it is an actual postponement of the resumption for three years! This is what is called specie payments! This is immediate resumption! Thus the end of all the fine declamations about honorable payment of debts The new law, it is said, authorises the issue of twelve months notes to the extent of one half of the capital of the banks and as the whole capital of the New York banks is stated at thirty four millions, we have here an authority to issue fifty one millions of paper irredeemable for a year and this, too, by an act entitled an act to facilitate the resumption of specie payments" Facilitate! It may well be called, to facilitate the payment of a debt by putting it off for a year Somebody has written a book called "The New York Humbugs" We beg him to reserve a chapter for the latest and oddest of the family, the New York specie payments, the immediate resumption next year!"

BANK CONVENTION SATURDAY

The Committee of one from each State made the following Report

The Committee of one from each State, to which was referred the Resolution of Mr Brockenbrough, of Virginia, and the subject of designating a day for the general resumption of specie payments, have had the subject referred to them under consideration, and beg leave to report

That said Committee have adopted the following Resolutions, which they recommend to the Convention for consideration and adoption, viz

Resolved, That it be recommended to all the Banks of the several States to resume specie payments on the first Monday in October next without precluding an earlier resumption on the part of such Banks as may find it necessary or may deem it proper

Resolved, That it is important to the success of the effort to return to specie payments, and to restore the currency to a sound condition that the Banks should be sustained by the General Government

A debate ensued of several hours length, and several amendments were proposed but none adopted There is a strong disposition manifested to have some day fixed, but it is the impression that the time will be more distant than that named in the above reports The Delegates from Massachusetts and Rhode Island, it is believed, are in favor of the 1st of January Those from Connecticut are willing to take an earlier day The subject, however, was not disposed of and the Convention adjourned to Monday, at 10 o clock

MORE PERFIDY TOWARDS THE INDIANS

The latest intelligence from Florida, states, that arrivals from Jupiter River bring information that the five hundred Indians encamped there, awaiting the decision of the President on the letter of General Jessup, recommending an abandonment of the war have been captured by General Jessup A part of them have been sent to Key Biscayne, (Cape Florida,) the remainder have gone over land to Tampa Bay They are in all, 520 in number, men women and children– and among them are from 150 to 200 warriors

A more recent arrival bring information that Colonel Bankhead, with his command, after traversing some "terrible" swamps, came up with a body of Indians, number not known, but supposed to be Sam Jones' gang, to whom a flag was sent, but the Indians very naturally fired upon the flag An attempt was then made to surround them but without effect They escaped The Seminoles have had quite enough of our flags of truce, and the breach of good faith perpetrated by Jessup, can never be forgotten or forgiven Undoubtedly the lives of many white men have paid the forfeit of that dastardly piece of treachery and no one can feel secure hereafter in bearing a flag of truce toward the Indians If we were not cursed with an administration of mercenary, cheating politicians, regardless of honor and of justice, Jessup's turpitude would have been properly reprobated and disclaimed

Jessup's recent conduct in surrounding the Indians, while a virtual amnesty was in existence, and he had encouraged them to believe that the President would consent to a cessation of war, is a fitting sequel to his violation of the flag of truce How disgraceful is the whole history of this Seminole war to our whole government! After piring out the blood and treasures of the country in lavish profusion a war begun in iniquity, oppression and fraud, is consummated by treachery and poltroonery, [Atlas

NEW JERSEY Right side up Sundry local elections in New Jersey took place last week The Whigs are represented to have carried all before them In Newark, Jersey city, Rahway, Elizabethtown, Woodbridge, Lodi, New Brunswick, &c they walked the course almost with out opposition

DETROIT MUNICIPAL ELECTION A slip of the 3d inst from the office of the Detroit Advertiser announces the annihilation of Loco-focoism in that city At an election of municipal officers on the 2d, Augustus S Porter, Whig, was chosen Mayor, by a vote of 839. His Van Buren opponent, Henry Howard, received 508 votes, Whig majority, 331 Van Buren majority for Mayor last year, 271 Whig gain 602

NEW ORLEANS, Charles Genois, has been chosen Mayor of New Orleans by a majority of 102 votes. Genois received 1150; Garenade 1047. [illegible] of the New Orleans papers, [illegible] a Whig.

POLITICAL SIGNS The Philadelphia Herald and Sentinel says, that such a dust will soon be raised in the Pennsylvania Avenue Washington, that Van Buren will be able to see nothing but his way from the Capitol

A Belgian journal contains a curious account of a giant, who, having made his fortune by exhibiting himself to the idle and curious in various countries, has lately retired to his native town, Verviers, near Liege Although of truly colossal magnitude, with thighs as large as the bodies of ordinary sized men, and a thumb which a boy twelve years old cannot grasp, he is symmetrically proportioned, and has a head and countenance rivalling in beauty and grandeur the Olympian Jove He is not devoid of education, and converses on most subjects with good sense As no room was high enough to contain him, he has been obliged to have one made to suit by moving ceilings, and thus converting two stories of his house into one, heightening the doors, and making other alterations in proportion His furniture is upon the same grand scale; the seat of his arm chair is upon a level with an ordinary table, and his table, with a chest of drawers, and his bed, filling an entire room His boots cost 80f apair, his hat 60f He feeds himself with a fork rivalling that with Guy's porridge pot at Warwick Castle, and a spoon with corresponding dimensions.– With all these appliances the poor man has no enjoyment of his life If he walks by day he is followed by all the boys and vagabonds of the town, and if he ventures forth at night, his ears are assailed by the screams of many who take him for some supernatural being He can have no hope of finding any woman who will venture to marry him, and therefore must remain deprived of all the enjoyments of domestic circle He passes his time, consequently, almost in solitude

LAFAYETTE BANK.

BANGOR April 16 1838

THE public are hereby informed that this Bank has bills in circulation to the amount of $10 148 and no more, and our whole aim is to make them bear a greater proportion to coin which has been issued than has heretofore been used with the other banks We therefore hope no holders of our bills will part with them at a discount The course of the Suffolk Bank in ceasing to redeem bills is approved by us The Suffolk system so far as this State is concerned we think is injurious to the banks and the public and should be abandoned

ASSESSORS NOTICE.

THE undersigned, Assessors for the City of Bangor, hereby give notice to the inhabitants of said city, and others liable to be assessed for property therein, that we shall be in session at our office in the City Hall on the 1st, 2d and 3d days of May next, for the purpose of receiving true and perfect lists of their polls and of all their estate, both real and personal, of which they may be in possession on the first day of May next, excepting such only, as is by law exempted from taxation. And we said inhabitants and others owners of property in said city, are hereby notified and warned to make, sign and bring in to us such true and perfect lists on the days and hours aforesaid, and to be prepared if required, to substantiate the same by oath or affirmation. A strict and prompt compliance by each and every person concerned, is indispensably necessary to an equitable and seasonable assessment of our taxes. And for the benefit of all we subjoin some extracts from the law

"If any person or persons shall not bring in such list, he, she or they so neglecting or refusing shall not be admitted to make application to the Court of Sessions for any abatements unless they shall make it appear to said Court that it was not in their power to furnish such list at the time appointed for that purpose." "When Assessors continue to assess any real estate to the person to whom it was last assessed said assessment shall be valid, notwithstanding the ownership or occupancy of such estate may have been changed, unless previous notice be given by the owner or occupant to one of the Assessors stating when he ceased to be the owner or occupant, and the name of the person to whom such estate was transferred or surrendered." "And any tenant in common or joint tenant of a freehold or other estate real or personal may be considered the sole owner for the purpose of taxation, unless he shall make known to the Assessors the amount and kind of interest he has in such estate."

VEGETABLE EXTRACT.
THE most effectual remedy ever discovered for the Throat Distemper, Scarlatina Maligna or what is called the Malignant Putrid Sore Throat, Canker Rash Canker and Thrush in the Mouth Dysentery &c &c.
As a common and perfectly safe Family Medicine it will be found of inestimable value in cases of Indigestion Flatulency Habitual Costiveness Nausea and Vomiting, Common Sore Throats and Colds, also, of a low stage of Fever, or wherever a cathartic, or alterative is indicated, as it neither induces debility, nor, as is the case with the operations of most medicines, so readily disposes one to take cold
A knowledge of the basis of this Extract was obtained from the recipe of an eminent clergyman of Massachusetts, who was a witness to the distressing ravages of the throat distemper in 1735, and which was by far the most virulent ever known in this country. The Rev gentleman represented the disease, notwithstanding the prescriptions of the most skilful Physicians, as proving fatal in every case until its destructive progress was completely and happily arrested by the use of the Vegetable Extract
This Extract has been for thirty years constantly used by a distinguished Physician now in practice, and in no instance, when seasonably administered, has he known it to fail of producing the desired effect With this testimony of its extraordinary healing powers he is now desirous of placing it before the public that it may the more generally, serve the cause of humanity
RECOMMENDATIONS
From J H Williams.
BOSTON, March 25, 1832
Dear Sir, I do most heartily give my testimony in favor of the Vegetable Extract.
I was attacked with a violent ulcerated sore throat, which continued for several weeks and on using the Extract an immediate cure was effected. From this evidence of its efficacy, I do not hesitate to recommend it, as superior to any other proposed remedy for the above mentioned disease, with which I am acquainted
From Enoch Davis
CAMBRIDGE, March 26, 1832
I do hereby certify that my oldest child was afflicted with the Throat Distemper, and that, after resorting to the usual remedies to no effect, I was advised to try the Vegetable Extract, this was administered, and the operation was most happy After giving one dose of it, the swelling and soreness of the throat immediately ceased
I cheerfully recommend it to the public as an invaluable medicine
To the above recommendations hundreds of others could be added were it considered necessary

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!

THE attention of School Committees, Teachers and Parents is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE READER, a selection of easy Reading Lessons by a Teacher a new edition of which, revised and corrected we have just published It is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities and long experience in his profession The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth, and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted The book comes at a very low price and it has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation and having been stereotyped, is free from the danger of having any alteration made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books

Those connected with schools, or interested in any manner, are requested to call and examine it

A CARD.

The subscriber most respectfully announces to his friends and the public generally, that at the earnest solicitations of the proprietors, he has assumed the charge of the HAMPDEN HOUSE. Conscious of the difficult task to please all, he nevertheless flatters himself he will be able to give general satisfaction by strict personal attention to the wants and wishes of those who may patronize the establishment His Bar will be constantly supplied with choice Liquors, and his Larder with the best the market affords

The spacious Hall connected with the house is in fine order. Ball and Parties can be accommodated, and Music of the first talent provided (if required) at the shortest notice, and at reasonable charges, and while he shall always be happy to wait upon company from the city, he will endeavor at the same time to render the house what in fact it should be, the resting place of the weary traveller and the stranger's home. In short he will not only endeavor to sustain, but to improve the reputation of the Hampden House, relying at all times upon the liberality of a generous public for that patronage which it will always be his aim to merit

NEW MAGAZINE OF VARIETIES, BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY,

EDITED BY "BOZ" with illustrations by Cruikshank "Never has a periodical more earnestly fulfilled its promises than this killer out magazine It undertook to be comical and it is comical almost to a fault The humor of Boz is humor per se there is nothing like it, nothing so good in its way, and it would appear that the springs from which it is drawn are inexhaustible. [London Atlas]

The extraordinary share of popularity this Comic Periodical is said to have experienced in England under the editorial management of Charles Dickens Esq has led the subscriber to believe that an American edition of a work of such high repute for wit and talent would, in addition to the Reprints of Reviews and Magazines of a character already issued by him, be acceptable he therefore respectfully takes leave to announce to the public his determination to commence an American series (to consist of the original) of Bentley's Miscellany with the January numbers of the present year 1838 and which he may expect to have ready during the month of February.

Many editors of journals of acknowledged taste have extracted copiously from the numbers of the Miscellany as they have appeared—and the Pickwick Papers, emanating from the pen of the talented editor, is now in course of profitable reprint in this country. The character of the Work therefore from these circumstances it may be presumed is so far favorably known as partially to have received the stamp of public approbation, which encourages the proprietor to hope that in being the mere humble instrument of presenting the first complete reprint of BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY to Literati of the United States he has not mistaken the public taste; and if his inference in this respect be correct he may, with confidence look forward to the result. WILLIAM HUNT

Broadway, corner of Pine Street

Conditions I The Work will be issued in monthly numbers as quickly after the receipt of the original copy as practicable Price 50 cents per number, or Five Dollars per annum payable in advance

II It will be handsomely printed in a bold type on a paper of first rate quality size demy 8vo and stitched up in a cover of unique design and to be made in every respect to correspond with the London edition. Subscriptions rec'd by
